The purpose of the processing of personal data from video surveillance is to ensure the protection of persons and property and to control access to business premises. The recipients of personal data from video surveillance are the maintainers of the video surveillance system and the data controller's responsible persons. The controller may keep the video surveillance recordings for a maximum period of one year from the date of recording (Article 76 of ZVOP-2), unless there is another legal basis for the processing. The recordings will not be used for any specific, unusual or further processing and will not be exported to third countries. The access, use or disclosure of the recordings is only permitted for the purposes specified by law or in this notice. The recordings record the image, time and date, but do not contain sound.

With regard to the processing of personal data, the data subject has the following rights under Articles 13, 14 and 15 of the GDPR and Articles 76 and 77 of the ZVOP-2: access to and rectification of personal data, restriction of processing and the right to data portability. However, due to the nature and purpose of the processing, it is not possible to request the erasure of personal data or to object to the processing of personal data. A written request to exercise the above rights may be sent to the contact details of the controller or its Data Protection Officer as indicated above.

The data subject also has the right to lodge a complaint with the supervisory authority:

Information Commissioner, Dunajska c. 22, 1000 Ljubljana.
